A look at the week ahead

Event Summary

- ✓ A Winter Weather Advisory is in effect for eastern Pennsylvania, all of New Jersey, the eastern shore of Maryland, and Delaware.
- ✓ Sleet and freezing rain will transition over to all freezing rain across south/central NJ, southeastern PA, and Delmarva this evening. Precipitation will continue into tonight before tapering off.
- ✓ For the southern Poconos, Lehigh Valley, Berks County and northwestern New Jersey, there is a chance of freezing drizzle starting late this evening into Sunday morning.
- ✓ This is the first of several systems which will affect the region with potential wintry precipitation into the new week. The main periods we are concerned about are Monday night into Tuesday and again Wednesday night through Friday.
